HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

The prices we quote and the abbreviations we use

This guide offers independent price information about all Great Britain stamps issued from 1840 to date, to help you budget for the items you require.

It quotes not the inflated prices that some catalogues give, but realistic market prices: the selling prices of most dealers.

The publisher of British Stamp Market Values is not affiliated to any dealer.

ABBREVIATIONS

The following abbreviations are used:

Des: designer

Perf: perforation

Wmk: watermark

GENERAL NOTES

- ☐ Unused prices assume stamps are se-tenant where applicable, but used prices do not.
- ☐ Used prices quoted are for fine examples with full perforations or reasonable margins as applicable, and with either a light duplex cancellation (pre-1880) or a clear steel datestamp (post-1880).
- ☐ When a dash (-) appears in a price column it means that the stamp doesn't exist in that particular state, or that it is impracticable to price it.
- ☐ As modern GB special stamps are usually sold only in sets, the price for a full set may be given instead of individual prices.

STAMP PRINTERS

A quick guide to who printed what, and when

A relatively small number of security printers has dominated the production of British stamps since 1840:

PERKINS BACON 1840-1879

American inventor Jacob Perkins developed intaglio printing, and his son-in-law Joshua Bacon joined him in business in London.

First issue: 1840 1d black

Last issue: 1870-79 1½d rose-red

SOMERSET HOUSE 1847-1926

The Stamp Office at Somerset House in London had been printing revenue stamps since 1694, and was familiar with embossing technique required for the first high-value postage stamps.

First issue: 1847-54 1/- green

Last issue: 1924-26 definitive series

DE LA RUE 1855 to date

Guernseyman Thomas De La Rue came to prominence by offering surface-printing, which was ideal for stamps requiring perforation.

First issue: 1855-57 4d carmine

HARRISON & SONS 1911-1998

After initially printing by typography, this firm became synonymous for photogravure from 1934 and remained Britain's dominant printer for many years. It was taken over by De La Rue in 1997.

First issue: 1911-13 definitive series

Last issue: 1998 The Queen's Beasts set

WATERLOW & SONS 1913-1955

There were two different Waterlow firms until 1920, after a family feud. The business was taken over by De La Rue in 1960.

First issue: 1913 'Seahorses' high-value series

Last issue: 1955 'Castles' high-value series

BRADBURY WILKINSON 1918-1973

A producer of colonial stamps since 1875, this company was owned by the American Banknote Co from 1903 and was acquired by De La Rue in 1986.

First issue: 1918-19 'Seahorses' high-value series

Last issue: 1973 Parliamentary Conference set

ENSCHEDÉ 1979 to date

The Dutch company founded in 1703 became a back-up for Harrisons because of its capability of printing by photogravure.

First issue: 1979 8p red definitive

WADDINGTONS 1980-1981

This firm produced stamps under its own name only briefly, before acquiring House of Questa.

First issue: 1980 4p greenish-blue definitive

Last issue: 1981 4p and 20p definitives

HOUSE OF QUESTA 1980-2003

Initially independent, the company was owned by Waddingtons from 1984, MDC from 1996 and De La Rue from 2002.

First issue: 1980 75p grey definitive

Last issue: 2003 Extreme Endeavours set

WALSALL/ISP 1989 to date

The company initially promoted itself as an expert in self-adhesive printing, but has also printed gummed issues by litho and gravure. It was fully rebranded as International Security Printers in 2014.

First issue: 1989 14p and 19p definitives (booklet)

CARTOR/ISP 2005 to date

The French company known for litho production and special printing techniques has been owned by Walsall since 2004.

QUEEN VICTORIA

For this reign prices are given for lightly mounted unused (left) and fine used (right). The exception is for the 1840-1841 issues, where fine used prices are subdivided into stamps with four margins (centre) and three margins (right).

Take care when buying unmounted mint because there are known cases of regumming.

Q. How to Build a Good Stamp Collection?

A. (Hint) If it's easy – maybe it is TOO easy...

10+ 'TOP TIPS' for Successful Collecting

As many of you know I made the decision to give up collecting when I started full-time in the trade 43 years ago. But here's what I perceive as a mistake I made in terms of re-sale value and in enjoyment. If you are not bothered about V A L U E then you don't need to read further...

What I collected then was easy to source. It was good quality. They were (and still are) lovely stamps but they would be worth less now than when I collected and that's more than 40 years ago. The basic mistake I made then was thinking that 'easy' made for a good stamp collection. Yes, 'easy' made for a lovely collection but I could buy those same stamps – in the SAME quality – from any number of different sources. I still can today ... so if I can buy them easily today – will their value have appreciated? Has demand for what is/was easily available increased?

The answer is a firm NO.

TIP As an 'aside'. In particular be wary of 'inertia' selling delivery systems – where you pay on direct debit / standing order system / monthly invoice. These systems usually hide the highest mark-ups in our industry and the lowest recovery value when it comes to sale. You are going to find this story particularly incredible – but about 13 years ago I was once called to clear a house-full of stamps. The owner had died leaving many 100's of unopened New Issue delivery envelopes. I opened one of the oldest envelopes. Inside was a note from the supplier saying sorry they had not delivered the MINT 1929 PUC £1! Ah well, I thought "such is life" – the collection included both mint Wembleys + literally masses more. Imagine my surprise when the next envelope opened included a MINT PUC £1 with a note saying "we found one for you" (and then the realisation that this High Value stamp had lain inside the same envelope for so long that it had a large brown 'rust-spot' on the reverse!

Returning to subject: So, what forms the basis of a GOOD stamp collection if I want 'resale VALUE'?

TIP 1). The answer is, as usual, a combination of factors... BUT, if you think in terms of desirability and then dial in quality... this makes for a collection that others will wish to purchase. Of course collecting means that some of the stamps you source will be easily available ... but if ALL the stamps you collect are easily available and on average they cost very little each... then you may have 1,000's of different stamps whose value lies in the actual handling cost of the supplier – not in their intrinsic value. So when it comes to selling this may result in little / no interest. Of course it goes without saying

TIP – Always collect the Best quality that you can afford.

Where Do I Source Good Stamps?

2). Sadly, in some senses, the Philatelic World has changed. Gone are the days when in 1980 100,000 different Collectors descended upon the 1980 International Stamp Exhibition at Earls Court. I know because I was there. An International Stamp Show in the 'west' today may be lucky to see 10,000 visitors. A stamp fair today in a local village / town may be lucky to see 30 visitors let alone 20 actual buyers ... when you consider that 15 dealers may have travelled to such a venue – is it any surprise that many Collectors may see the same stamps they saw at that same venue a month before?

KING EDWARD VII

For this reign most stamps are priced in three columns: unmounted mint (left), mounted mint (centre) and fine used (right). But booklet panes are priced for mounted mint only.

De La Rue printings are generally cleaner, with good centring and neat perforations. Harrison and Somerset House printings are coarser, with poor centring and ragged perfs. A vast range of shades exists, the details of these being beyond the scope of this publication.

PRE-DECIMAL MACHIN DEFINITIVES

In this section, prices are given for unmounted mint (left) and fine used (right). Exceptions are made where used prices are not applicable, for example booklet panes and gum varieties.

The Machin head of Queen Elizabeth II is so-called because it is from a sculpture by Arnold Machin. All designs in the series are similar, but small differences can be found in the head itself and in its setting in the design.

There are also varieties in the number and positioning of phosphor bands.

DECIMAL MACHIN DEFINITIVES

All stamps have fluorescent-coated paper unless otherwise stated.

Gum

Gummed stamps can be found with three different gums. Gum Arabic is either colourless or yellow in appearance and is very shiny. Polyvinyl alcohol gum (PVA) is colourless but has a matt appearance. Polyvinyl alcohol with dextrin gum (PVAD) is also matt, but has a bluish or greenish tinge.

Self-adhesive definitives have become increasingly common since 1993.

Phosphor

Phosphor at first was applied in the form of vertical bands. When you hold a stamp up to the light and look along the surface, the paper itself appears shiny while the bands have a dull appearance.

Most stamps have two phosphor bands, on the two vertical edges; others have just one, which can be central or down the left or right vertical edge.

The width of the bands can vary, as can the size of the printing screen used to apply them, but these differences are beyond the scope of this publication.

Booklet panes, where stamps of the 2nd class rate (requiring a single phosphor band) have been printed adjacent to other stamps (requiring two phosphor bands), have been found with the phosphor printed as bars rather than bands. Whereas bands extend across the perforations to the next stamp, these bars stop at the edge of the stamp design.

The term 'all over phosphor' is used where the phosphor was printed over the entire surface of the stamp, rather than in the form of bands. In some cases it was printed onto the paper before the stamp design was printed; in other cases it was printed afterwards.

The term 'no phosphor' is often applied to stamps with the phosphor omitted in error; such errors are outside the scope of this publication. However, the 50p and 75p values have been printed without phosphor in the normal course of events.

Paper

At first, from February 1971, these stamps were printed on 'original coated paper', which gives a dull violet reaction when the front of the stamp is viewed under ultra-violet light.

This was gradually replaced from August 1971 by 'fluorescent coated paper', which gives a bright reaction under ultra-violet light, and then from August 1979 by 'phosphor-coated paper', which adds the after-glow of phosphor and makes the stamp appear uniformly shiny. Note that stamps with phosphor omitted in error also have a uniformly shiny surface, so those with phosphor-coated paper can only be positively identified by their reaction under ultra-violet light.

The appearance of stamps with phosphor-coated paper can vary considerably due to variations in their drying time after printing. The abbreviation 'PCPI' is used to denote a dull appearance, and 'PCPII' a highly glazed appearance.

Some stamps with phosphor-coated paper have been found with the fluorescent brightener omitted. These still give a phosphor afterglow, but the paper gives a dull violet reaction similar to that found with original coated paper.

Attempts to standardise the paper produced what is known as 'advanced coated paper' (ACP), in use from March 1983. The visual difference between ACP and PCPI is slight, but the former gives a brighter reaction under ultra-violet light.

Value and portrait

Minor changes can be noted in the position of the denomination of value in relation to the Queen's portrait, and the position of the portrait in relation to the base of the stamp.

Booklet panes

At first booklets were held together by stitching, so that a number of small holes can be found in the binding margin on the left hand side of panes. Later, the panes were stuck into booklet covers by the binding margins; in many such cases, panes can be found with the binding margin to the left or to the right.

In the case of stitched booklets, the booklet panes are recorded separately. Where the panes are stuck into the covers, most collectors prefer these as complete booklets, so the separate panes are not recorded.

Many of the early decimal booklet panes included labels set-tenant with the stamps in the pane, adjacent to the binding margin. At first these panes were perforated between the labels and the margin, but later they were not.

In 1987, as an experiment to counter complaints about the poor guillotining of panes, some booklet panes were produced with stamps with either the left or right-hand edge imperforate.

Coils

There are two different types of coils or rolls from which stamps may be found.

Where the source of a stamp is listed as 'coils', this refers to coils of the same value, usually 1st class or 2nd class, joined either horizontally or vertically. These were usually produced for use by businesses.

Where the source is listed as 'se-tenant coils', this refers to coils containing a mixture of values joined as a strip. These were usually produced for sale through vending machines.

Cartons

In an experiment staged in Scotland in 1976-78, 1st class and 2nd class definitives (including country definitives) were sold in cartons from vending machines. Sold at 30p or 60p, they contained either 6½p and 8½p, or 7p and 9p stamps.

3). No, the answer is that Stamp Collecting is alive and well – stamps shops are all but defunct – but ‘underground’ – on-line, by mail-order and at auction things are still ‘humming’ depending upon whom you are dealing with. So, let’s look at potentially / probably the biggest sourcing area of the hobby apart from retail which is fairly self-explanatory ... and that is bidding / buying at Stamp Auction.

4). Nowadays there are three types of stamp auction: – Pure Internet / Public - (including on-line bidding) / Postal (Mail-Bid Sales – including on-line). Each has its strengths and weaknesses. Let’s start with Pure Internet live auctions, I won’t mention names but in some senses these are today’s equivalent of the ‘Wild West’. As fast as these internet Giants catch up with the some of the crooks using them, the crooks move a step ahead ... many internet bidders using them are ‘hooked’.

TIP 4a). They have become ‘live auction obsessed’ unwilling / not capable of looking elsewhere – thinking that bidding / buying this way guarantees value which it does not. What happens when they come to sell?

Perhaps then they realise that only some of what they may have glistening is ‘gold’. Indiscriminate internet auction bidders buying 1,000’s of low price items ... may have spent large sums IN TOTAL ... but may not have created desirable collections. The cost of a low priced item is the labour and cost of selling it. Nothing changes when that item comes to being re-sold.

TIP 5). Now let’s look at Public Auction. Yes – you will be hard pressed to find a Public Stamp Auction that does not accept on-line / live internet bidding. As with ‘Pure Internet’ stamp sales – and perhaps even more so – ‘Caveat Emptor’ (buyer beware becomes even more the mantra. Generally individual lots may have higher average values so that lots offered are often higher value collections, accumulations or higher value sets / singles / rarities. Such auctions are the ‘haunts’ of dealers and astute buyers ... but risk is attached, plus the absence of guarantees and the pernicious unpleasant buyer’s premium + other charges which at certain auctions can convert a £1000 stamp purchase into as much as an invoice for £1,300.

TIP 5a). There are bargains to be had – but it is very much a ‘big boys’ playing field. Some of these auctions deliberately under-estimate lots that they know are worth far more ... so that they can then have the dubious pleasure of publicising that a £1,000 estimated lot realised £10,000, when perhaps their knowledge suggested it should have been estimated at upwards of £5,000 in the first place ... (hence – how wonderful they are).

TIP 5b). For certain types of lots such as actual Collections offered fairly intact the absence of guarantee combined with unreliable estimate means that for those who do not physically view a Public Stamp Auction and bid ‘blind’ – this is a dangerous place to be. Of course this may work to the advantage of an astute bidder who is actually present to physically view lots in the auction room. Historically that person was usually a Dealer. Perhaps less so these days.

TIP 6). Finally we come to look at Postal Auctions/Mail-Bid Sales. First I must profess that I have an interest in a Mail-Bid / Postal Auction Sale. My company U P A conducts the largest postal auctions in the U K ... What should the Collector or Dealer be looking for here?

TIP 6a). Most good Postal Auctions including U P A offer Collectors a No Quibble Refund Guarantee (NQRG) ... and by ‘No Quibble’ I mean NO QUIBBLE. Look for this – it is crucial. You are probably not actually seeing the stamps before bidding ... so no guarantee would mean unacceptable risk.

TIP 6b). Unlike Public Auctions most Postal Auctions ‘break’ many collections into smaller ‘collector-sized’ units so that you may find what you seek without having to purchase what you do

Did you miss the boat or did you take our advice?

In 1973 we recommended and sold the British definitive 1/2p (SGX842) with one phosphor band on side. We told our customers to buy them at 25p each. WE WERE RIGHT!! If you had taken our advice, for an outlay of only £150 in 1973, the current catalogue value of your investment would be a staggering total of £20,000

In 1999 we recommended our customers to buy the Princess Diana Welsh Language Presentation Packs. The catalogue value was only £2.50 each, but we were telling our customers to buy them for up to double catalogue value £5 each. Within only 6 years they had increased by 3,900%.

As everyone knows, investments can go down as well as up and the past is not necessarily a guide to the future. However, being selective and taking sound advice is the best way to make your hobby pay for itself.

In 2003 we recommended our customers to buy the Coronation £1 Green (SG 2380) which was catalogued by Stanley Gibbons at £1.50 per stamp. Within 1 year the catalogue value had increased to £50 per stamp, an increase of over 3,200%.

Our customers complemented us once again saying,
"Thank you again you were right".

SELLING? WE BUY STAMPS

Enfield Stamp Centre (Est. 1977). A small family business, we have produced a Newsletter listing all the collections we have acquired over our shop counter for many years. We do not buy at auctions. We buy from the public: Collectors, Solicitors, Probate lots, Banks, Charities, Artie finds etc. Many of the thousands, who have bought from us, return to sell their treasures, for all manner of reasons, eg. moving, changing interests, retirement. We make a free market valuation of the stamps. We offer to buy them there and then or invite you to get another offer if you wish. It's as simple as that! No auctions with unpredictable results and exorbitant commission charges. No waiting months whilst the auctioneer catalogues your collection, only to sell it in a dealer like us. No waiting 45 working days (or more) for payment after the sale. Instant, friendly, face to face dealing. As they say "Life's complicated enough". Why complicate it more sending your life's work by some freight company to a careless valuer. We buy direct. No hassle, no charges, no waiting. Got something to sell? Try us. What have you got to lose? Come to our shop, no appointment required (open Wed, Fri and Sat - 9.00 a.m. - 4 p.m.) for a free, no obligation, offer.

35 years of experience, valuing stamps every day, will ensure you have made the right move.

YOUR LOCAL STAMP SHOP JUST A PHONE CALL OR EMAIL AWAY!

not need - it follows that most of the stamps in most postal auctions may be owned by the company presenting the auction. It is not viable to sell low priced lots on a commission basis. Ask yourself why you may be asked to pay a buyer's premium? Is it actually a Vendor's lot or owned by 'The House'?

TIP 6c). The Buyer's Premium was introduced to 'split' cost between buyer and seller so that a 'low' seller's commission looks attractive (if you forget about the premium the buyer is paying for the seller's stamps). Be aware of this or deal with auctions not charging a buyer's premium. You are in control. You can bid anywhere that you find what you seek - but it is good to be aware and informed.

TIP 6d). Prices Realised are IMPORTANT. For some unknown reason - even some larger Postal / Mail-Bid Auctions still do not produce lists of what their lots sold for after the auction. Look for auctions providing this feature - it provides reassurance combined with a trackable 'snapshot' of current market values PLUS what is selling and what is not selling. You can learn such a lot from

'Prices Realised' - I study them each day.

TIP 7). Credit Cards. 75% of some auction sales are settled by credit / debit card. The Biggest in the land has no need to charge you for use of them ... Sheer volume of business accesses lowest rates. Why are you paying a premium to use your card? Is the supplier making a profit upon the extra % you are charged to use your card?

TIP 8). Look for unique 'Collector friendly' benefits that turn the disadvantage of lots not being sold to your advantage. U P A, for example, has for the past 15 years offered their Unique Reducing Estimate System (URES) whereby lots are increasingly reduced in estimate price till sold - some have reached one penny and then sold. Approaching one million lots have been offered through this system.

TIP 9). Cost of Delivery is one of the most annoying hidden costs that collectors absolutely abhor. Look for transparency in this area.

TIP 10). Beware the Seller / Auction NOT including Insurance when sending your winnings.

And Finally We Come to C H O I C E... and Mind-Set?

TIP Without Choice we have nothing. So it follows that you need substantial choice to form a good, even great, stamp collection. You cannot do business when each time you 'visit' all you see is what you have seen before - stagnating stocks offered at prices that ensure continued stagnation. If choice is limited you'll never find philatelic items you need - or even that you were unaware of their existence. That's the joy of collecting. The thrill of the unexpected, the chance find. You need dealers that want to help and auctions that wish to serve - so, in stamps 'attitude is all'.

So when you're searching for a stamp auction compare it against your list above of what to look for and if and when you're offered a 'No Risk Free Trial' ... please consider - take it Now ♦

POST & GO STAMPS

In most of this section, prices are quoted in two columns: mint on backing paper (left) and fine used (right). Where there is only one column, this is for mint stamps on backing paper, except in the case of first day covers.

This listing is limited to labels dispensed from self-service machines, with the value printed at point of sale and no restrictions on date of use.

Post office machines

Since October 2008, automated kiosks have been installed at an increasing number of post offices, vending self-adhesive stamps to order.

Besides a 'Post It Now' service with labels meeting a wide range of postage rates (which are outside the scope of this publication), they offer a 'Buy A Stamp' service in which a pre-printed base design is overprinted at the time of the transaction with details of one of a limited selection of postage rates, along with a code which identifies the post office and machine number.

The machines installed in post offices from 2008 were manufactured by Wincor Nixdorf, and could print the stamps in strips of up to five. Between February 2014 and March 2015, these were gradually replaced by machines manufactured by NCR, which can print in strips of up to six.

Royal Mail machines

Since 2011, Royal Mail has also had its own range of machines, initially referred to as Hytech but upgraded to Series B in 2014.

These have been used to print the strips and packs which are available from the philatelic service. They have also been temporarily installed at various philatelic events in Britain and abroad, and in 'pop up' post shops, and permanently installed at a growing range of museum locations (including the British Postal Museum & Archive, the National Museum of the Royal Navy, the Royal Marines Museum and the Fleet Air Arm Museum) and Royal Mail enquiry offices (including Crewe and Bradford North), in many cases dispensing stamps with an additional commemorative or location-identifying inscription.

As the use of Post & Go has extended to other stamp-issuing countries, machines installed at Broad Street in Jersey and Gibraltar House in London have also dispensed stamps with UK postage rates and location-identifying overprints.

When machines are installed at exhibitions overseas, examples are also made available from Tallents House in Edinburgh.

Postage rates

From 2008, the five rates available were 1st class, 1st Large, Europe up to 20g, Worldwide up to 10g and Worldwide up to 20g. Towards the end of 2011,

Worldwide up to 40g was added to offer a sixth option.

From 2011, vending machines have offered a 'collector's strip' comprising one of each of the six standard rates (although in the case of Wincor Nixdorf machines these were vended as two strips of three).

A 2nd class rate was introduced in 2013, although it was not made widely available until 2014 and is not included in standard collector's strips.

With tariff changes in 2014, the Worldwide up to 10g and Worldwide up to 20g rates were replaced by Europe up to 60g and Worldwide up to 60g, and after a short delay the Europe up to 20g rate was changed to Europe up to 20g/Worldwide up to 10g (expressed on the stamps as 'Euro 20g/World 10g'). In 2015, both 60g rates were updated to 100g.

Although pictorial sets are regularly superseded by new designs, none has formally been withdrawn from use, with the result that new rates have been reported machine-printed on old designs. Examples have also been found of the 2nd class design printed with 1st class rates, and vice versa.

Printing

It is possible to distinguish the type of machine used to print a stamp from its typeface. In most cases the differences are slight, but two exceptions are '60g' and 'Euro 20g/World 10g', where there are clear differences between different machines.

Stamps printed in corrupted typefaces also exist, mostly from the 2010-12 period, but are outside the scope of this publication.

The standard BPMA location identifier (when without any further commemorative inscription) can be found in either an upper or lower position on the stamp.

Phosphor

All the stamps have two phosphor bands, except the 2nd class Machin, which has one phosphor band.

COMMEMORATIVE SHEETS

In this section, prices are quoted for complete mint sheets only.

Commemorative sheets are an evolution of Smilers sheets. They are not personalisable but are customised as a souvenir product by Royal Mail. Early issues had normal gum, but most subsequent issues have been self-adhesive.

PRESENTATION PACKS

In this section, prices are quoted for packs in mint condition only.

Presentation packs have been issued regularly for special stamp issues since 1964, and definitives since 1967, but many collectors regard the packs sold in 1960 (which were also marketed in the USA and therefore also found priced in US dollars) as the forerunners of these collectables.

Packs issued by Royal Mail in foreign language and other special versions are listed in this section, but those produced privately, commercially sponsored or not placed on general sale are outside the scope of this publication.
